24 employer as defined by 29 C.F.R. § 825.104(c)(2), and a joint employer where 2 or more businesses exercise some 25 control over the work or working conditions of the employee. Joint employers may be separate and distinct entities
26 with separate owners, managers, and facilities. For purposes of earned sick time and safety leave, the employer who 27 pays the employee will be considered that individual’s employer.

28 b. Notwithstanding paragraph (4)a. of this section, when an employer client company enters into an agreement
29 with a professional employer organization as defined by § 3302(8)(J) of this title, the employer client company shall be 30 treated as the employer for purposes of this chapter.

31 (5) “Extra Pay for Extra Responsibility education time” means all of the following activities that are beyond
32 the standard contract for teachers and education support personnel:

43 b. A biological parent, adoptive or foster parent, stepparent or legal guardian of an employee or an 44 employee’s spouse or domestic partner, or an individual who stood in loco parentis when the employee or the

51 (7) "Earned sick time and safety leave" means time that is provided by an employer to an employee under § 52 1202 of this title for the purposes described in § 1203 of this title.

53 (8) "Retaliation" includes, but is not limited to, any threat, discharge, discipline, suspension, demotion, non-54 promotion, less favorable scheduling, reduction of hours, application of absence control policies that count an 55 employee's use of earned sick time and safety leave as an absence that may lead to adverse action, a report or threat to 56 report an employee's suspected citizenship or immigration status or the suspected citizenship or immigration status of a
57 family member of the employee to a federal, state, or local agency, or other adverse action against employees for the 58 exercise of a right guaranteed pursuant to this chapter, including sanctions against an employee who is a recipient of 59 public benefits for rights pursuant to this chapter. "Retaliation" includes interference with or punishment for 60 participating in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing pursuant to this chapter.

64 previous 12 months.

65 (12) "Stalking" means as defined in § 710 of this title.

66 (13) "Substitute education employee" means an individual employed by a school district who:

67 a. Is employed on a temporary basis or without a defined schedule or assignment.

68 b. Provides temporary coverage when a regular employee is unavailable due to vacancy, illness, leave, or 69 other reasons.

70 (14) "Wage" means compensation due to an employee by reason of the employee's employment, payable in 71 legal tender of the United States or check or banknote convertible into cash on demand at full face value, subject to 72 such deductions, charges, or allowances as may be permitted by the regulations of the Department under this title.

73 (15) "Year" means, unless the context requires otherwise, a regular and consecutive 12-month period as 74 determined by the employer.

75 § 1202. Accrual of earned sick time and safety leave.

76 (a) (1) All employees shall accrue a minimum of 1 hour of earned sick time and safety leave for every 30 hours
77 worked, including overtime hours. However, an employee of a school district shall not accrue earned sick time and safety
78 leave for Extra Pay for Extra Responsibility education time.

79 (2) Employees who are exempt from overtime requirements under 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) of the Federal Fair
80 Labor Standards Act will be assumed to work 40 hours in each work week for purposes of earned sick time and safety
81 leave accrual unless their normal work week is less than 40 hours, in which case earned sick time and safety leave 82 accrues based upon that normal work week.

83 (b) Earned sick time and safety leave shall begin to accrue on an employee's first day of work or upon the 84 effective date of this chapter, whichever is later, but employees are not entitled to use accrued earned sick time and safety
85 leave until the 90th calendar day following the employee's first day of work. On and after this 90-day period, employees
86 may use earned sick time and safety leave as it is accrued.

87 (c) Earned sick time and safety leave shall be compensated at the same hourly wage, or the full state minimum
88 wage, if higher, and with the same benefits, including healthcare benefits, as the employee normally earns during hours
89 worked; provided, however, that employees of a small business shall only be entitled to unpaid earned sick time and safety
90 leave under this chapter with the same benefits, including healthcare benefits, as the employee normally earns during hours 91 worked.

92 (d) An employer may limit the number of earned sick time and safety leave hours that may be accrued in a year,
93 how many hours an employee has access to at one time, and may limit the number of accrued and unused sick time and 94 safety leave hours that may be carried over to a subsequent year, so long as employees are notified in writing of the policy
95 and subject to the following limitations:

96 (1) An employer may cap the number of sick time and safety leave hours that may be accrued in a year, but 97 the cap may not be set at less than 40 hours per year.

98 (2) An employer may cap the number of earned sick time and safety leave hours that may be carried over to a
99 subsequent year, but the cap may not be set at less than 40 hours.

100 (3) An employer may cap the total number of unused earned sick time and safety leave hours that an 101 employee has access to at one time, but the cap may not be set at less than 40 hours.

102 (4) As an employee uses earned sick time and safety leave carried over from a previous year to bring the 103 accrued time below any cap established by the employer under paragraph (d)(1) of this section, earned sick time and 104 safety leave will again begin to accrue 1 hour for every 30 hours worked up to the annual cap set by the employer
105 under paragraph (d)(1) of this section.

106 (e) Earned sick time and safety leave under this chapter must be provided in addition to any other paid leave an 107 employer provides employees for purposes other than sick time and safety leave, except as provided in subsection (g).

108 (f) For a period of two years following [the effective date of this Act], an employer may not reduce any paid leave 109 allowed to employees to offset the employer’s obligation to provide earned sick time and safety leave in compliance with 110 this chapter.

111 (g) Notwithstanding subsections (e) and (f) of this section, an employer with a paid leave policy, such as a paid
112 time off policy, who makes available an amount of paid leave sufficient to meet all requirements of this chapter, including 113 the rate of accrual and use for the same purposes and under the same conditions as earned sick time and safety leave under 114 this chapter, is not required to provide additional earned sick time and safety leave under this chapter.

115 (h) An employer shall not require an employee to exhaust any other paid leave before the employee uses earned 116 sick time and safety leave pursuant to this chapter.

117 (i) If an employee is transferred to a separate division, entity, or location within this State, but remains employed 118 by the same employer, the employee is entitled to all earned sick time and safety leave accrued prior to transfer.

119 (j) When an employer is a successor in interest, all employees of the original employer who remain employed in 120 this State by the successor in interest are entitled to all earned sick time and safety leave accrued under the original 121 employer.

122 (k) An employer’s failure to provide earned sick time and safety leave based on the employer’s misclassification
123 of the employee as an independent contractor is a violation of this chapter.

124 § 1203. Use of earned sick time and safety leave.

125 (a) An employer must allow an employee to use earned sick time and safety leave for any of the following 126 purposes:

127 (1) Care or treatment for the employee’s mental or physical illness, injury, or condition, including those 128 caused by substance abuse.

129 (2) Care or treatment for a family member with a mental or physical illness, injury, or condition, including 130 those caused by substance abuse.

131 (3) Preventative medical care for the employee or the employee’s family member.

132 (4) Closure of a family member’s school, childcare center, group home, or other facility due to a public health,
133 safety, or weather emergency that requires the employee to provide transportation or care for the family member 134 affected by the closure.

135 (5) Time needed by the employee in connection with a child of the employee to attend a school-related 136 conference, meeting, function or other event requested or required by a school administrator, teacher, or other

137 professional staff member responsible for the child's education, or to attend a meeting regarding care provided to the 138 child, in connection with the child's health conditions, behavioral health, or disability.

139 (6) To address circumstances arising as a result of domestic violence, a sexual offense, or stalking committed 140 against the employee or an employee's family member including all of the following:

141 a. Obtaining medical or mental health services.

142 b. Obtaining services from a domestic violence shelter, rape crisis center, or other organizations providing 143 relevant services.

144 c. Participation in safety planning.

145 d. Engagement with law enforcement personnel, attorneys, social service providers or related providers in 146 order to obtain advice and counsel or to prepare for civil or criminal proceedings.

147 e. Temporary relocation or attendant activities such as changing a family member's enrollment in any 148 institution, including schools and any school-related activities.

149 f. Any other action necessary to maintain, improve, or restore the physical, psychological, or economic 150 health or safety of the employee or the employee's family member, or to protect those who associate or work with 151 the employee.

152 (7) To comply with an order or determination by a local, state, or federal public official, a health care
153 professional, a health authority having jurisdiction, or the employee's employer to self-isolate, on the basis that the
154 employee's physical presence on the job or in the community would jeopardize the employee's health, the health of 155 other employees, or the health of an individual in the employee's household because of: (i) possible exposure to a
156 communicable illness related to a public health emergency; or (ii) exhibiting of symptoms of a communicable illness
157 related to a public health emergency, regardless of whether the employee has been diagnosed with such illness.

158 (b) An employee who anticipates a need to use earned sick time and safety leave must provide the employer with 159 as much advanced notice as reasonably possible and make a reasonable effort to schedule the use of earned sick time and 160 safety leave in a manner that will not unduly disrupt the employer's operations. An employer may not penalize an employee
161 who takes accrued earned sick time and safety leave prior to giving the employer advanced notice when the need for leave 162 arises unexpectedly.

163 (c) An employer may not require documentation or other proof of the reason for which an employee uses earned
164 sick time and safety leave unless the employee is absent from work for three or more consecutive work days. An employer
165 may not require the employee to reveal specific facts justifying the need for leave. If an employee chooses to relate the facts

166 underlying a need for earned sick time and safety leave, the employer must keep those facts confidential unless otherwise 167 required by law.

168 (d) Reasonable documentation for earned sick time includes documentation from a medical professional, mental 169 health professional, substance abuse professional, counselor, social worker, school administrator, or the administrator of a 170 group home or similar facility.

171 (e) Reasonable documentation for earned safety leave pursuant to paragraph (a)(6) of this section includes:
172 medical documentation; a law enforcement agency record or report; a court order; documentation substantiating that the 173 perpetrator of the domestic or sexual violence has been convicted of a domestic or sexual violence offense; certification
174 from advocates or a representative of a designated domestic violence agency or other victim services organization; or other
175 documentation or certification provided by a counselor, social worker, member of the clergy, shelter worker, health care 176 professional, attorney, school administrator, or other professional who has assisted the employee or family member in 177 dealing with the domestic violence, sexual offense, or stalking.

178 (f) An employer must not require, as a condition of providing earned sick time and safety leave, the employee
179 either search for or find a person to cover the hours during which the employee is using earned sick time and safety leave.

180 (g) Employees shall determine how much earned sick time and safety leave they need to use for an absent shift,
181 provided that employers may set a reasonable minimum increment for use of earned sick time and safety leave not to 182 exceed one half the number of hours the employee was scheduled to work during that shift.

183 § 1204. Employer obligations.

184 (a) An employer must provide employees with written notice of the entitlement to accrue earned sick time and 185 safety leave as required by this chapter, at the commencement of employment or within one month of [the effective date of 186 this Act], whichever is later. The notice must include an explanation for how earned sick time and safety leave is accrued,
187 the purpose for which it may be used, the rules set forth in § 1203 of this title, that retaliation against employees exercising
188 their rights under this chapter is prohibited, and the employee's right to submit a complaint pursuant to § 1205 of this title.

189 (b) An employer must display and maintain a poster in a conspicuous place accessible to employees at the 190 employer's place of business that contains the information required under subsection (a) of this section in English, Spanish, 191 and any language that is the primary language spoken by at least 5% of the employer's workforce, if the poster has been 192 translated by the Department.

193 (c) An employer may develop reasonable rules governing the method and manner by which an employee must 194 give the employer notice of the intent to use earned sick time and safety leave. Rules may include requirements for notice
195 prior to taking leave if the need for leave is known in advance and for notice after leave is taken if the need for leave arises

196 unexpectedly. Unless the employer develops rules governing notice of the intent to use earned sick time and safety leave
197 and provides the rules to an employee in writing, the employer may not deny an employee the right to use earned sick time
198 and safety leave for failure to comply with notice requirements.

199 (d) An employer may not take any retaliatory action against an employee for any of the following reasons:

200 (1) The employee has exercised or attempted to exercise the employee's rights under this chapter.

201 (2) The employee has reasonably alleged a violation of this chapter.

202 (3) The employee has raised a bona fide concern about violations of this chapter to the employer, the 203 employer's agent, other employees, a government agency, or the public through print, online, social, or any other 204 media.

205 (e) Except as provided in § 1207(e) of this title, an employer may not require an employee or individual previously
206 employed by the employer to sign a contract or other agreement that would limit or prevent the employee or individual
207 previously employed by the employer from asserting rights provided for in this chapter or to otherwise establish a 208 workplace policy that would limit or prevent the exercise of such rights. An employer's attempt to impose such a contract, 209 agreement, or policy shall constitute an adverse action enforceable pursuant to this chapter.

210 (f) An employer may not count use of earned sick time or safety leave in a way that will lead to discipline,
211 discharge, demotion, non-promotion, less favorable scheduling, reduction of hours, suspension or any other adverse action.

212 (g) The Department shall create and provide model notices and posters that contain the information required under 213 subsection (a) and (b) of this section for employers' use in complying with this section. The Department may, in its 214 discretion, combine the model poster required under subsection (b) of this section with other posters required under this 215 title.

216 § 1205. Enforcement.

217 (a) The Department shall take all appropriate action to administer and enforce this chapter, including all of the 218 following:

219 (1) Establishing a system to receive complaints, in writing, by telephone, and online, regarding alleged 220 violations of this chapter.

221 (2) Establishing a process for investigating and resolving complaints in a timely manner and keeping 222 complainants notified regarding the status of the investigation of their complaint.

223 (3) Ensuring employer compliance with this chapter through the use of audits, investigations, record keeping 224 requirements, or other measures.

225 (4) Establishing a system and procedures for reviewing complaints and holding hearings.

226 (5) Developing and implementing an outreach and education program to inform employees, parents,
227 caregivers, schools, social service and care providers, and persons who are under the care of a health care professional
228 about the availability of earned sick time and safety leave under this chapter. Outreach information provided under this 229 section must be available in English, Spanish, and other languages spoken by more than 5% of the state's population.

230 (b) The Department shall investigate, and the Secretary shall adjudicate, alleged violations of this chapter.

231 (c) The Department may exercise all powers granted to it by law to conduct its investigations.

232 (d)(1) Following an investigation in which the Department makes an initial determination that an employer has 233 violated 1 or more provisions of this chapter, the Department shall notify the employer, in writing, of the initial 234 determination, of the action to be taken, of the grounds upon which the determination was made to take the action, of the 235 instructions to request a hearing, of the deadline for requesting a hearing, and of any amounts owed or equitable relief 236 required.

237 (2) The Department shall give the employer at least 20 business days from the date of receipt of notice to 238 request a hearing. If the employer does not request a hearing within the time provided in the notice, the Secretary shall 239 issue a final order adopting the Department's initial determination and awarding appropriate relief.

240 (3) The Department may promulgate regulations to further govern the investigations and adjudicative 241 procedures described in this chapter.

242 (e) The Department shall keep confidential the identity of complainants unless disclosure is necessary for the 243 investigation or where required by law. This provision does not apply to disclosures made to the parties, their counsel, or 244 witnesses where disclosure is deemed necessary or appropriate. Investigations under this chapter are not public information
245 under Chapter 100 of Title 29. Where practicable, the Department shall notify a complainant that the Department will be 246 disclosing the complainant's identity prior to such disclosure.

247 (f) A civil action may be filed in a court of competent jurisdiction for a violation of this chapter within 3 years
248 from the date of the last event constituting the alleged violation for which the action is brought. Such action may be filed by 249 an employee or previously employed individual aggrieved by such violation, by a person or entity that has a member who 250 has been affected by a violation of this chapter, or by an employee or previously employed individual on behalf of the 251 individual or on behalf of other employees similarly situated. Such action may only be filed after exhausting all
252 administrative remedies provided by this chapter; provided, however, that if the Department has not acted on a filed
253 complaint for a period of 180 days, the complainant may file a civil action after the 180-day period has expired. The lack of 254 an investigation by the Department is not a bar to a civil action brought by a complainant pursuant to this chapter.

255 (1) The Department may bring a civil action for a violation of this chapter.

256 (2) It is not a defense to any action brought pursuant to this section that the complaint was brought by or in 257 regard to an individual who does not have evidence of having a legal presence in the United States.

258 (3) The parties in a civil action regarding retaliation by an employer shall be subject to the following burdens
259 of proof:

260 a. When a complainant presents a prima facie showing of retaliation, the employer shall then have the 261 burden to establish a legitimate, non-retaliatory reason for the adverse employment action.

262 b. When an employer meets the burden of proof required by paragraph (f)(3)a. of this section, the 263 complainant shall then have the burden to establish that the reason cited by the employer was pretextual.

264 (4) A plaintiff prevailing in a legal action brought pursuant to this chapter shall recover all appropriate legal or 265 equitable relief, the costs and expenses of suit, and reasonable attorney fees. In an action brought by the Department,
266 any damages recovered, other than penalties assessed by the Department pursuant to subsections (g) or (h) of this 267 section, shall be payable to the individual or individuals who experienced the violation.

268 (5) The court, in an action under this subsection, shall award reasonable attorneys' fees to a defendant if the 269 court finds the action was brought in bad faith.

270 (g) Any employer who violates or fails to comply with any requirement of this chapter is subject to a civil penalty
271 of not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 for each violation.

272 (h) An employer is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $1,000 and not more than $5,000 for each violation if 273 the employer discharges or in any manner retaliates or discriminates against an individual because that individual does any 274 of the following under this section:

275 a. Makes a complaint or provides information to the Department.

276 b. Causes, or is going to cause, an investigation to be instituted.

277 c. Testifies, or is going to testify, in a hearing.

278 (i) In addition to penalties under this section, an employer is liable to the affected employee or individual in an 279 amount equal to actual damages, including back pay, wages and benefits lost, and equitable relief as appropriate, such as 280 reinstatement.

281 § 1206. Regulations.

282 The Department may adopt regulations and revise or rescind regulations it deems necessary or appropriate to 283 administer or enforce this chapter. Except as may be otherwise provided by the Department, a regulation adopted under this 284 section takes effect on publication.

285 § 1207. Application.

286 (a) This chapter provides minimum requirements pertaining to earned sick time and safety leave and shall not be 287 construed to preempt, limit, or otherwise affect the applicability of any other law, regulation, requirement, policy, or 288 standard that provides for a greater amount, accrual, or use by employees of earned sick time and safety leave or that 289 extends other protections to employees.

290 (b) Nothing in this chapter is intended to discourage or prohibit an employer from the adoption or retention of an 291 earned sick time and safety leave policy more generous than the one required herein, including but not limited to allowing 292 accrual of earned sick time and safety leave at a faster rate or the use of earned sick time and safety leave at an earlier date 293 than this chapter requires.

294 (c) Nothing in this chapter is intended to diminish the obligation of an employer to comply with any contract,
295 collective bargaining agreement, employment benefit plan or other agreement providing more generous earned sick time
296 and safety leave to an employee than required herein. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as diminishing the rights of 297 public employees regarding earned sick time and safety leave or use of earned sick time and safety leave as provided in 298 other laws or regulations of this State.

299 (d) Nothing in this chapter requires financial or other reimbursement to an employee upon the employee's 300 termination, resignation, retirement, or other separation from employment for earned sick time and safety leave that has 301 been accrued but not used, unless such financial or other reimbursement is required under another law.

302 (e) All or any portion of the requirements of this chapter do not apply to employees covered by a valid collective 303 bargaining agreement, to the extent that such requirements are expressly waived in the collective bargaining agreement in 304 clear and unambiguous terms.

305 Section 2. Amend § 1108, Title 19 of the Delaware Code by making deletions as shown by strike through and 306 insertions as shown by underline as follows:

307 § 1108. Duty of employer regarding notification, posting and records.

308 It shall be the duty of every employer of over 3 employees to:

309 (4) a. Furnish to each employee at the time of payment a statement, either on the check, or by a separate slip,
310 or electronically, so long as the electronic statement is in a form capable of being retained by the employee, showing 311 all of the following:

312 1. The amount of earned sick time and safety leave available to the employee, the amount of earned 313 sick time and safety leave taken by the employee to date in the year, and the amount of pay the employee has 314 received as earned sick time and safety leave.

315 2. ~~the~~ The wages due, the pay period for which the wages are due and the total amount of 316 deductions, separately specified, which have been made from the wages due, provided such statement shall,
317 for an employee who is paid at an hourly rate, show the total number of hours for the said pay period.

318 b. Where the statement provided pursuant to this paragraph is furnished electronically, an employee may 319 request that the statement be provided in written form on a separate slip.

320 Section 3. This Act takes effect on January 1, 2027.

321 Section 4. If any provision of this Act or the application of this Act to any person or circumstance is held invalid,
322 the provisions of this Act are severable if the invalidity does not affect the other provisions of this Act that can be given 323 effect without the invalid provision or the application of this Act that can be given effect without the invalid application.

SYNOPSIS

This Act requires all employers in the State to provide employees with a minimum of 1 hour of earned sick time and safety leave for every 30 hours worked. For employers of fewer than 10 employees, the time may be unpaid, job-protected time instead of paid time. Accrued earned sick time and safety leave may be used by the employee for time off with pay at the employee's same wage and benefit rate to deal with the mental and physical health needs of either the employee or an employee's family member and other specified purposes. Earned sick time and safety leave may also be used to address the consequences of domestic violence for such things as meeting with lawyers, obtaining services from victim service organizations, temporary relocation and the like.

Employers may cap the number of hours earned per year at 40, the carryover from one year to the next at 40 hours, and the maximum earned sick and safety leave an employee has access to at any one time at 40 hours. Employers may require employees to have been employed at least 90 days before they may take earned sick leave and safety time. Employers whose benefits packages already meet the minimum requirements of this Act are not required to offer anything additional.

The Department of Labor will promulgate regulations governing operation of the Act and will enforce the provisions of the Act. Employers who violate the Act are subject to civil penalty of no less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000. Employers are prohibited from discriminating against an employee who complains to the Department that an employer has violated the Act. Where discrimination or retaliation is found to have occurred a penalty between $1,000 and $5,000 may be applied.
