HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
15th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 108

DESIGNATING SEPTEMBER 2022 AS ALOPECIA AWARENESS MONTH IN THE STATE OF DELAWARE.

1 WHEREAS, alopecia is defined as the partial or complete absence of hair from areas of the body where it 2 normally grows and can be either temporary or permanent; and

3 WHEREAS, there are multiple types of alopecia including androgenic alopecia, alopecia areata, alopecia totalis, 4 alopecia universalis, and more; and

5 WHEREAS, alopecia of any type can affect all genders equally and can affect people of all ages and walks of life; 6 and

7 WHEREAS, Alopecia Areata affects as many as 6.8 million people in America and causes hair loss which can 8 range from patches of hair, typically circular and coin-size, to complete hair loss, otherwise known as Alopecia Totalis; and

9 WHEREAS, while there is no known cause for this autoimmune disease, several factors seem to contribute; some 10 evidence shows genes which control T regulator cells may be involved in Alopecia Areata, and patients who have other 11 autoimmune diseases like autoimmune polyglandular syndrome (APS) or autoimmune thyroid disease (AITD), may be 12 predictive of poor outcomes with treatment; and

13 WHEREAS, although there is no known cure, it is generally possible for Alopecia Areata patients to regrow hair 14 because the hair follicle is not totally destroyed or scarred as it is with cicatricial (scarring) alopecias; and

15 WHEREAS, bringing awareness to this disease is designed to help those experiencing hair loss remain confident 16 and positive, despite their condition; hair loss often carries a stigma that can only be dispelled with education and 17 knowledge, and for many with this disease, the emotional aspect of living with hair loss can be the greatest challenge; and

18 WHEREAS, during the month of September, many communities across America will be holding special events to 19 bring awareness to this disease, and minor and major league baseball teams have joined in helping NAAF get the word out 20 that it is nothing to be ashamed of; and

21 WHEREAS, The National Institutes of Health and other organizations are continuously supporting research that 22 may one day put an end to this disease; currently, researchers are studying the development of hair follicles in hopes of 23 finding treatments which will address the cause of this disease and investigating genetic clues with the hopes of developing 24 therapies and early intervention strategies.

25 NOW THEREFORE:

26 BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the 151st General Assembly of the State of Delaware, the 27 Senate concurring therein, that September is recognized as Alopecia Awareness Month

28 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly calls upon citizens, government agencies, and others to 29 end the stigma around alopecia and better support those who feel ashamed for suffering from a common illness.

SYNOPSIS

This concurrent resolution recognizes the month of September 2022 as Alopecia Awareness Month.
