19	WHEREAS, African Americans, such as Louis L. Redding, Peter Spencer, Mary Ann Shadd Carey, Henrietta
20	Johnson, Herman Holloway, Sr., William J. Winchester, and James Sills, along with many others, worked against racism
21	and made significant contributions to improve the lives of Delawareans; and
22	WHEREAS, in 2021 House Bill No. 198 was passed adding Black History to the State's curriculum; and
23	WHEREAS, the contributions of African Americans, from all walks of life and throughout the history of the 24	United States, reflect the greatness of the United States; and
25	WHEREAS, many African Americans lived, toiled, and died in obscurity, never achieving the recognition those
26	individuals deserved, yet paving the way for future generations to succeed; and
27	WHEREAS, on February 22, 2012, people across the United States celebrated the groundbreaking of the National
28	Museum of African American History and Culture, which opened to the public on September 24, 2016, on the National
29	Mall in Washington, District of Columbia; and
30	WHEREAS, African Americans continue to serve the United States at the highest levels of business, government,
31	and the military; and
32	WHEREAS, on November 4, 2008, the people of the United States elected Barack Obama, an African-American
33	man, as President of the United States; and
34	WHEREAS, the birthday of Frederick Douglass inspired the creation of Negro History Week, the precursor to
35	Black History Month; and
36	WHEREAS, Negro History Week represented the culmination of the efforts of Dr. Carter G. Woodson, considered
37	the father of Black history, to enhance knowledge of Black history through "The Journal of Negro History", published by
38	the Association for the Study of African American Life and History, an association founded by Dr. Carter G. Woodson and
39	Jesse E. Moorland; and
40	WHEREAS, Black History Month, celebrated during the month of February, originated in 1926 when Dr. Carter
41	G. Woodson set aside a special period in February to recognize the heritage and achievements of Black people in the United
42	States; and
43	WHEREAS, Dr. Carter G. Woodson stated, "We have a wonderful history behind us If you are unable to
44	demonstrate to the world that you have this record, the world will say to you, 'You are not worthy to enjoy the blessings of
45	democracy or anything else'."; and
46	WHEREAS, since its founding, the United States has imperfectly progressed toward noble goals; and
