143 7.80% of taxable income in excess of $250,000.

144 Section 2. Amend § 1109, Title 30 of the Delaware Code by making deletions as shown by strikethrough and 145 insertions as shown by underline as follows:

146 § 1109. Itemized deductions.

147 (a) General. — In determining taxable income under this chapter, in lieu of the standard deduction provided by § 148 1108 of this title, a resident individual may elect to deduct the sum of the itemized deductions claimed on the federal 149 income tax return as shall be permitted under the laws of the United States as the same are or shall become effective for any 150 taxable year in determining the federal taxable income, or, if the person does not itemize deductions or elects the credit for 151 foreign taxes paid on the federal return, the person may deduct the sum of the itemized deductions to which the person
152 would have been entitled had the person itemized the deductions (including the deduction for foreign taxes paid) on the 153 federal return:

154 (1) Reduced by:

155 a. The amount thereof representing income taxes imposed by this State;

156 b. The amount of any income tax imposed on the person for the taxable year by another state of the 157 United States or a political subdivision thereof or the District of Columbia on income derived from sources therein
158 if the person elected to take such amount as a credit in accordance with § 1111(a) of this title; and

159 (2) Increased by:

160 a. An amount equal to the excess of the state employee automobile mileage reimbursement allowance
161 over the standard mileage rate allowed as a charitable deduction for federal income tax purposes for unreimbursed
162 automobile transportation expense incurred by an individual while serving as a volunteer for a charitable 163 organization as defined in § 170(c), Internal Revenue Code [26 U.S.C. § 170(c)];

164 b. In the case of a self-employed individual, the amount paid during the taxable year for insurance which 165 constitutes medical care for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse and dependents, less the amount allowed the 166 taxpayer as a deduction pursuant to § 162(l)(26 U.S.C. § 162(l)) or successor provision of the Internal Revenue
167 Code. For purposes of this subparagraph, "self-employed taxpayer" shall mean a resident individual whose gross
168 income is more than one-half derived from a trade, business or profession and not derived as an employee. Income
169 in the nature of interest, dividends or other investment income shall not constitute self-employment income. No
170 self-employed taxpayer whose total cost of insurance for health care for the taxpayer, spouse and dependents exceeds the gross income from the trade, business or profession shall be entitled to the deduction under this subparagraph; and

c. An amount equal to 12 percent of itemized deductions determined under this section without regard to this paragraph.

(3) Reduced by:

a. 20 percent in the case of an individual with adjusted gross income in excess of $125,000 but not in excess of $160,000;

b. 40 percent in the case of an individual with adjusted gross income in excess of $160,000 but not in excess of $190,000;

c. 60 percent in the case of an individual with adjusted gross income in excess of $190,000 but not in excess of $220,000;

d. 80 percent in the case of an individual with adjusted gross income in excess of $220,000 but not in excess of $250,000;

e. 100 percent in the case of an individual with adjusted gross income in excess of $250,000.

SYNOPSIS

This bill lowers the current tax rate by .05% for each bracket. The bill creates a new tax bracket at $125,000 with a rate of 7.05% and an additional bracket at $250,000 with a rate of 7.80%. The bill also provides a tiered reduction of the otherwise available itemized deduction based upon the individual's taxable income.
