SYNOPSIS

Subchapter III, Chapter 68, Title 16 of the Delaware Code ("Subchapter III") was originally enacted in 1982. In 1996, President Clinton signed the Bill Emerson Good Samaritan Food Donation Act, 42 U.S.C. § 1791 ("Bill Emerson Act"). The Bill Emerson Act preempts Subchapter III to the extent of any conflict, known as "partial preemption".

This Act makes Subchapter III consistent with the Bill Emerson Act by protecting a “gleaner” from civil or criminal liability as it relates to their donation of the gleaned food.

Since the Bill Emerson Act only partially preempts state law on this subject, the State is free to provide greater protection than the Bill Emerson Act. Therefore, this Act does all of the following:

1. Extends to those who, in good faith, donate food to state agencies the same immunity from civil or criminal liability that is granted to those who, in good faith, donate food to nonprofit organizations.
2. Specifically includes within the definition of “food” both perishable food and wild game to make it clear that food, in all of its forms, is covered by this Act. Thus, under this Act, those donating deer to the Division of Fish and Wildlife’s Sportsmen Against Hunger program would be immune from civil or criminal liability as it relates to the donation.
3. Protects a person who, in good faith, provides services to a nonprofit organization or state agency related to the processing of wild game that is donated to a nonprofit organization or a state agency.

The bill also clarifies the authority of Division of Public Health and Department of Agriculture relating to donated food.
