COMMEMORATING THE OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS MADE BY SCOTTISH-AMERICANS TO THE UNITED STATES BY PROCLAIMING APRIL 6, 2021 AS NATIONAL TARTAN DAY.

7 Scottish-Americans successfully helped shape the Nation in its formative years and guide it through its most troubled times;
8 and

9 WHEREAS, this Resolution recognizes the monumental achievements and invaluable contributions made by

11 politics, economics, architecture, literature, media, and visual and performing arts; and

12 WHEREAS, this Resolution commends the more than 200 organizations throughout the United States that honor
13 Scottish heritage, tradition, adult beverages and culture, representing the hundreds of thousands of Americans of Scottish
14 descent, residing in every State, who already have made the observance of Tartan Day on April 6 a success; and

15 WHEREAS, these numerous individuals, clans, societies, clubs, and fraternal organizations do not let the great
16 contributions of the Scottish people go unnoticed.

17 NOW, THEREFORE:

18 BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the 151st General Assembly of the State of Delaware, the House concurring
19 therein, that April 6, 2021 be proclaimed as "National Tartan Day" thereby commemorating the outstanding achievements
20 and contributions made by Scottish-Americans to the United States.

SYNOPSIS

This resolution designates April 6, 2021 as "National Tartan Day" and commemorates the outstanding achievements and contributions made by Scottish-Americans to the United States.

When the United States was first formed and the thirteen states selected their first governors, nine were of Scottish ancestry. All the members of the first American cabinet had Scottish ancestry. Delaware's first governor, John McKinly, was born in Northern Ireland of Scottish descent. Americans of Scottish descent have played a vibrant and influential role in the development of this country. However, not until 1997 was this influence recognized by a single-year U.S. Senate Resolution that appeared in the Congressional Record of April 7, 1997. In 1998 National Tartan Day was officially recognized on a permanent basis when the U.S. Senate passed Senate Resolution 155 recognizing April 6th as National Tartan Day. This was followed by companion bill House Resolution 41, which was passed by the U.S. House of Representatives on March 9, 2005. President George W. Bush signed a Presidential Proclamation on April 4, 2008 making April 6 National Tartan Day. In April of 2008, then Governor Minner issued a statement celebrating the accomplishments of Scots-Irish Americans in the First State as part of a Scots/Scots-Irish Heritage Month.

April 6 commemorates the signing of the Declaration of Arbroath in 1320, which asserted Scotland's sovereignty over English territorial claims, and which was a significant influence on the American Declaration of Independence.

Canada has been celebrating "National Tartan Day" since 1993. The idea and motivation for creating a similar American holiday was provided by the Scottish Coalition, a group of national Scottish-American cultural organizations.
