3 § 9401A. Short title.

4 This Act may be cited as the Supported Decision-Making Act.

5 § 9402A. Purpose; interpretation.

6 (a) The purpose of this chapter is to do all of the following:

7 (1) Provide assistance in gathering and assessing information, making informed decisions, and communicating
8 decisions to adults who do not need a guardian or other substitute decision-maker for such activities, but who would 9 benefit from decision-making assistance.

10 (2) Give supporters legal status to be with the adult and participate in discussions with others when the adult is 11 making decisions or attempting to obtain information.

12 (3) Enable supporters to assist in making and communicating decisions for the adult but not substitute as the 13 decision maker for that adult.

14 (b) This chapter is to be administered and interpreted in accordance with all of the following principles:

15 (1) All adults should be able to live in the manner they wish and to accept or refuse support, assistance, or 16 protection as long as they do not harm others and are capable of making decisions about those matters.

17 (2) All adults should be able to be informed about and, to the best of their ability, participate in the 18 management of their affairs.

19 (3) All adults should receive the most effective yet least restrictive and intrusive form of support, assistance,
20 or protection when they are unable to care for themselves or manage their affairs alone.

21 (4) The values, beliefs, wishes, cultural norms, and traditions that an adult holds should be respected in 22 managing an adult’s affairs.

SYNOPSIS

This Act creates the option of a supported decision-making agreement for adults who do not need a guardian but who need assistance in gathering information, making decisions, and communicating those decisions. The Act allows these adults, called “principals” in this Act, to select and appoint one or more trusted friends or relatives or a paid provider to act as a supporter. The supporter can provide assistance and guidance on issues affecting the principal, such as coordinating health care and services; making health and service-related decisions; and dealing with housing issues, daily living activities, and routine financial matters. The supporter is not empowered to make decisions for the principal or to substitute the supporter’s judgment for the principal’s. This Act includes safeguards such as limiting who can act as a supporter and requiring a written document with disinterested witnesses. This Act gives the supporter legal status to participate in the decision-making process by gathering information and assisting the principal in making and communicating decisions. A decision or a request communicated by the supporter must be honored on the same basis as a decision or request of the principal.
